Transactions, 1880-81, Vol. 30 (Classic Reprint) Sep 25 2019 Excerpt from Transactions, 1880-81, Vol. 30 Perhaps at no time in the history of mining has a larger quantity of mineral been brought to the surface than during the year 1880 - 81, and it would naturally be thought from this circumstance that the profession of mining was in a prosperous condition, whereas, unfortunately, the reverse is the fact, and never has the pressure of adverse times been so severely felt. The Institute has suffered from this condition of things, but not to the extent that might have been anticipated. The total number of members has decreased by 36, but the income from all sources has increased. This is attributable to the larger amount of arrears that has been collected. The accumulation of arrears has seriously occupied the attention of the Council for some time past, and although the evil is great as regards the Institute, it is one that is not confined to it alone, for it forms a serious item in the balance sheets of other Societies. Negroni Oct 19 2021 Over 30 classic recipes and modern twists for Italy's most iconic cocktail, the Negroni. The Negroni has been a favorite with discerning cocktail drinkers for over a century but has perhaps never been as popular as it is today. What started off as a simple, equal-parts, three-ingredient cocktail (campari, gin, vermouth) has become a global sensation. Included here are recipes for classic Negronis from straight-up over ice to a sparkling aperitivo spritz. This basic formula is then played with in endless ways with Negronis designed for different seasons; bright and citrusy summer versions; cozier, spiced winter drinks; and celebratory cocktails for special occasions. These exciting variations make use of both dry, sweet, and aged vermouths, along with ports and sherries, and some truly experimental non-gin negronis (made using bourbon, rum or even mezcal) really open up the playing field!

Great Walks on the England Coast Path Dec 29 2019 At around 4500km (2800 miles), the England Coast Path is the longest coastal trail in the world. This inspirational large-format guide presents a handpicked selection of 30 highlight sections, offering a taste of England's stunning and diverse shoreline. Routes range from 9 to 45km, spanning between 3 hours and 2 days, offering options to suit all abilities. They can be accessed by public transport and are walkable year round (weather permitting!). Route descriptions are accompanied by 1:50,000 OS map extracts. Included in each walk are comprehensive listings of public transport, toilets and places to eat and drink, which highlight the excellent walking infrastructure available in many areas. Overview information on terrain, distance and timing facilitates easy planning, a route summary table helps you to choose an appropriate route, and there are also GPX files available for free download. Fascinating snippets of history and geology are interspersed throughout, and the appendices contain useful websites and further reading. Incorporating beautiful photography of England's coastline, the guide will encourage you to explore both well-loved and less well-known parts of the English shoreline, from soaring cliffs to wildlife-rich estuaries, from huge golden beaches to atmospheric marshes. Capturing the rich heritage and glorious contrasts of England's coast, the routes offer something for everyone, whether your passion is for escape or adventure, geology or nature, castles or culture. The sea has defined England's history and the coast is a dynamic and exciting place to walk, so let these 30 routes introduce you to great walking by the sea on England's newest National Trail.

While in college he pursued the scientific course, and at the beginning Of his sophomore year he elected mathematics and civil engineering, which studies he made his specialties during his entire course, and in which he Obtained a very high standing. His college social life was much benefited, in that he was a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity. After being graduated he was secretary to the director of the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station; a position which he continued to hold until April, 1895, when he was appointed to fill the vacancy of Assistant Professor of Mathematics in our own Alma Mater, and in June following he Was elected to the same position. Iiiui'ing the summer of 1897 he took a special laboratory course In physics at Cornell University, that he might the better fulfill his position here. On June 30, 1897, he was married to Miss Carrie Van Valin. In Professor Hasbrouck we feel that we have one who is ever exerting his utmost to further the interests of our College, and also the interests of the students. Since he has been among us he has placed his department Of Mathematics upon that firm basis where it never rested before. As an ex ample of his untiring efforts we have a newly equipped physical laboratory. In the preparation of this room, and Obtaining modern apparatus for its equipment, he has Spent many a valuable hour that we students might have better facilities to study nature's laws. Whereas, before we had practically no physical laboratory, we now have one which is no very mean affair. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
